Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Saturday 25 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Wet overnight. Gradually becoming milder but showery through Boxing Day.

This Evening and Tonight:
Cloudy and cold during the evening, as a band of rain makes gradual inroads from the southwest, turning heavier and more persistent overnight, with low cloud becoming extensive. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Sunday:
A wet morning, with a band of rain making very gradual progress northeast, becoming lighter and more showery from the west with time. Milder later, perhaps with limited brighter intervals. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Often cloudy with periods of rain or showers, these perhaps prolonged in the south on Monday. Probably driest on Tuesday, ahead of a milder but likely wetter and windier Wednesday.
